Come to learn or come to win! At the 2019 Youth Crop Scouting Competition middle school and high school youth can show off their crop scouting knowledge to win prizes. All participants will learn, have fun, and get a free t-shirt. Iowa State University staff and industry professionals will evaluate your knowledge as you work to identify corn and soybean pests and problems in the field. All you need is a team of 2-5 youth and an adult team leader.

Date: July 29th, 2019
Location: Field Extension Education Laboratory at 1928 240 St., Boone, IA.
Time: Registration begins at 8am. Competition starts at 8:30am and will end by 2:30pm.
Meals: Lunch, beverages, and snacks will be provided.
Prizes: $500 for 1st, $300 for 2nd, $150 for 3rd, $50 for 4th. The top two teams will be invited to the regional competition, held in Iowa on August 26th.

To learn more and to register visit: https://www.ipm.iastate.edu/crop-scouting-competition-iowa-youth-2018. Educational materials about crop scouting and integrated pest management are also available from the website. Contact Maya Hayslett, hayslett@iastate.edu, if you have any questions.